State Supreme Court Holds for a Free Press

As you read in a lead Associated Press dispatch on this-page Tuesday the Arkansas Supreme Court ruled for a free press and against a strait-jacket of rules governing trial publicity that had been proposed by the Arkansas Bar Association.

I do not mean to infer that members of the bar have no faith in a free press, nor that some newspapers in other states haven't practiced sensationalism for profit. But the press does have a code of ethics just as lawyers have—and this was recognized in Tuesday's decision by the state court.

As Associate Justice Lyle Brown spoke for the court (in the words of the AP dispatch): "(The court) was not convinced that Arkansas had a problem with court news dissemination."

The proposed set of rules was put forth by the Arkansas Bar Association, and was opposed by the Arkansas Press Association and Sigma Delta Chi, the professional society of journalists, both of which organizations had filed briefs.

In justice to the Arkansas Bar Association I should point out that regulations governing information on criminal cases have been adopted in 23 other states—and our state bar merely traveled with the tide.

We are grateful to the Arkansas Court for stemming that tide. Caught in the cross-fire between U.S. constitutional guarantees of both freedom of the press and the right of an accused person to trial by an impartial jury—the court has given newspapers the benefit of the doubt.

Editors will do their level best to justify that confidence.

HHH Sees Great Victory

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey clung to a diminishing lead over Sen. George S. McGovern today as Ohio's troubled Democratic primary was hit by a new problem.

A Democratic congressional hopeful filed suit in federal court to toss out the results and force a new vote in populous Cuyahoga County—Cleveland, where a massive primary day snarl had complicated both balloting and tabulation.

Most of the Cuyahoga County returns had yet to be computed. The suit was filed in Cleveland.

Centennial Speaker

KELLY BRYANT

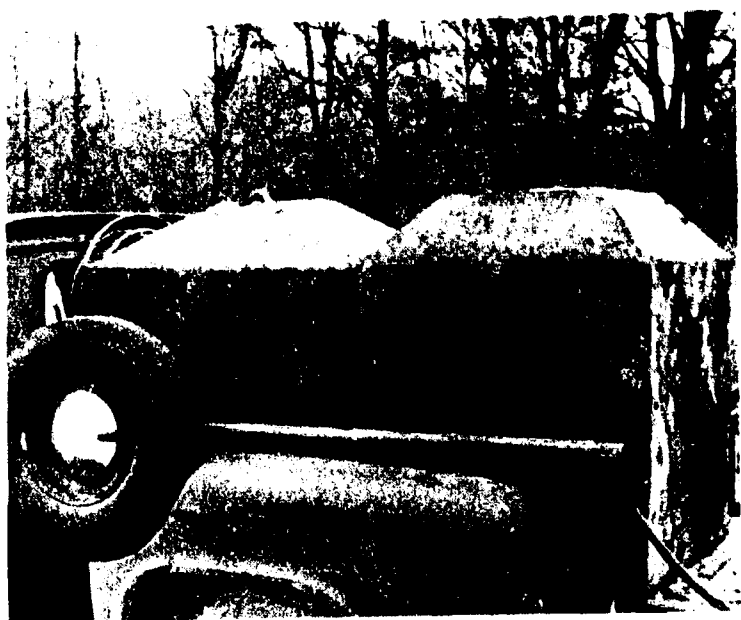

Some 100 persons turned out last night to initiate plans for Hope's Centennial Celebration. Principal speaker for the occasion was Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, of Hope, who has compiled records at the State Capitol on Hope and Hempstead County. He outlined this official data at last night's meeting.

General Chairman Haskell Jones presided over the meeting and a number of committee chairmen were selected. They will be announced later.

Agents Uncover Still

State Alcoholic Beverage Control Agents, members of the Hempstead County Sheriff's office and Deputy Prosecuting Attorney's office uncovered a still on Melrose Lane recently. The still, located within a quarter mile of Hope city limits, contained 1,000 gallons of mash and two 250 gallon tanks. Officers confiscated and destroyed all equipment. Harold Rushing of Hope has been charged with operating an illegal distillery.

Controls to Continue

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's chief economist says it is unlikely that wage-price controls will be removed this year.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, also told reporters Tuesday that price controls "are consistent with a very substantial increase in profits this year" and that he doesn't find great anxiety among American businessmen over profit curbs.

Stein, who just returned from Europe where he conferred with economic officials from several countries, said he found a "strong feeling of confidence in the international situation." He said the uncertainty that prevailed overseas earlier in the year seems to have disappeared.

In a news conference the Economic Adviser defended the Price Commission decision exempting about five million small businesses from controls.

"These five million ... never got close to the Price Commission," he said. "The Price Commission deals with about 1,500 companies Tier 1 and about the same number in Tier 2."

The commission requires the largest companies in the nation, Tier 2, to clear price increases in advance. The second group must make periodic reports of price boosts to the government.

Jackson Bows Out

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, whose strong personal presidential campaign in Ohio failed to ignite voter support, has dropped out of active primary election campaigning.

But he said he was not releasing his delegates.

"A lot can happen between now and Miami," Jackson said Tuesday night, looking ahead to the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach, Fla.

The Washington senator had made a strong bid for Ohio's primary, but finished fourth in a field of five Democrats.

Jackson said that he had to work with a radio-television and newspaper advertising budget of $22,000 in Ohio. He had said earlier that his entire state campaign budget was less than $50,000.

"I had indicated earlier I would not carry on a campaign involving deficit financing," Jackson told newsmen and a small gathering of supporters. Because of limited campaign funds, "It is my decision not to go into any more of the primary campaigns because it will not be possible ... without deficit financing."

Jackson continues on the ballot in Oregon, Nebraska and Michigan, which have mandatory primaries.

Authorize Loans

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Public Service Commission authorized Tuesday two electric cooperatives to borrow money from the National Rural Utilities Cooperative Finance Corp.

The PSC authorized Southwest Arkansas Electric Cooperative to borrow $191,000 and authorized North Arkansas Electric Cooperative to borrow $146,000.

Turk Plane Hijacked

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A Turkish jetliner with 61 passengers was hijacked today to Communist Bulgaria where the hijackers threatened to blow it up if the aircraft was approached, the news agency Anatolia reported.

The semiofficial Turkish agency said the plane was on the ground at Sofia, Bulgaria's capital. The Turkish Air Lines DC9 was seized while on a flight from Ankara to Istanbul.

Officials in Istanbul speculated that four students who boarded the plane at the last minute may be members of the Turkish Peoples Liberation Army, an extremist group responsible for many acts of violence in Turkey, including the kidnap-murders of an Israeli diplomat and three foreign radar technicians.

The Turkish radio announced that there were more than 10 foreigners among the passengers but did not give their nationalities.

It was the second hijacking of a Turkish passenger plane to Bulgaria. In 1969 a mental patient diverted a flight to Sofia. The Bulgarians promptly returned the plane and handed over the hijacker three days later.

Among the passengers was Omer Inonu, a businessman and son of Ismet Inonu, leader of Turkey's Republican People's party.

The plane was to have flown on to Rome, Milan and Zurich after Istanbul, Turkish Airlines said.

Enemy Advancing on Old Capital of Hue

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops attacked within six miles of Hue today after seizing a fire base north of the old imperial capital. Other enemy forces captured the last South Vietnamese stronghold in the northern part of coastal Binh Dinh Province.

A massive U.S. air armada of Air Force, Navy and Marine planes made hundreds of strikes against North Vietnamese positions in South Vietnam but again showed no immediate signs of turning the tide.

In the heaviest raids in more than four years, U.S. fighter-bombers flew 618 strikes in all four military regions of South Vietnam, about two-thirds of them in the northernmost provinces of Quang Tri and Thua Thien in efforts to forestall an attack on Hue.

Following the debacle in Quang Tri, Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander in the northernmost military region 1, is being replaced.

Vietnamese marines abandoned Fire Base Nancy about 22 miles north of Hue Tuesday after a tank battle. The marines fell back to the My Chang River line, the main defensive position about 20-25 miles north of Hue.

One-quarter of Hue's 200,000 population already has fled, fearing a repeat of the 1968 Tet offensive slaughter in which Communist troops seized and held most of the city for about a month and executed more than 3,000 residents.

Landing Zone English, on the central coast, crumbled after two days of savage attacks that destroyed its artillery and ammunition and inflicted heavy casualties on the South Vietnamese defenders. The several hundred remaining Saigon troops and their families withdrew under the cover of darkness and marched to the coast to ships that carried them to the provincial capital, Qui Nhon.

The fall of English, a regimental command post, completed a sweep of the province by the North Vietnamese. They took three district towns earlier. It left the North Vietnamese in control of 200,000 people, one-fifth of the population of Binh Dinh, gave them a rich rice harvest for their forces, and established a springboard for further thrusts either to the north or south.

A southward thrust would threaten Qui Nhon, South Vietnam's fourth largest city. A northward drive would aim for Quang Ngai City, about 75 miles south of Da Nang.

Heavy fighting also erupted along the northernmost defensive line, about 20 miles northwest of Hue.

Over 100 Escape

24 Perish in Idaho Mine

KELLOGG, Idaho (AP) — At least 24 miners died in the nation's richest silver mine after fire swept through mineshafts more than half a mile underground, authorities said today.

Shoshone County Sheriff Lou Gardner said 19 bodies were being brought to the surface in addition to the five which mine officials said were removed from the murky shafts Tuesday.

More than 100 men escaped. Families and co-workers of miners reported missing huddled over warming stoves on the surface while rescue crews sealed off shafts they had checked but found empty.

First reports said 77 miners were unaccounted for. It was not immediately clear whether the death toll of 24 cited by the sheriff included some of the 77 missing miners.

About 100 rescue personnel were charting areas sealed behind bulkheads to keep flames from spreading into new portions of the mine. The rescuers also were working their way into other smoke-filled shafts as they tried to locate the missing miners.

Idaho Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said in Boise that state authorities will seek as soon as possible to determine the cause of what he said may be Idaho's worst mine disaster.

Some 100 members of the families of the missing men gathered at the concrete-faced mine after the fire broke out late Tuesday morning, then at the behest of mine officials started a long wait in a nearby mine warehouse.

As darkness fell, mine work-lights illuminated the entrance to the shaft and a corrugated iron structure housing the mine's hoist machinery.

Mine officials would not say whether they knew the location of the missing men in the labyrinth of tunnels that extend 5,000 feet into the earth.

A Sunshine spokesman said the missing miners have no means of communicating with those above ground, and they have not been heard from since the fire started.

More than 100 rescuers from the U.S. Bureau of Mines and other mine operations in the area responded to calls for help.

Working in teams of five and wearing oxygen tanks, searchers entered the mine shafts for periods up to 30 minutes, closing off areas probed and trying to narrow their field of search.

One rescuer described the mine interior as "extremely hot, extremely smoky and almost impossible to see in."

Chase said the cause and exact location of the fire were not known. It was believed to have burned in timbers in an older portion of the mine between the 3,400 and 3,700 foot levels.

Crews above ground bored a 4-foot hole into a mineshaft to force air down to rescuers and the miners still inside, he said.

Wallace Wilson, a Sunshine vice president, said 108 dayshift workers were evacuated from the mine immediately after the blaze flared.

Five bodies were brought out of the mine's main shaft about nine hours later.

Campaign Trail

Jim Guy Tucker, (right), candidate for State Attorney General, talks with Dick Moore during his campaign visit in Hope Tuesday.

Jim Guy Tucker visited Hope Tuesday in his campaign for State Attorney General. This is Tucker's first time to run for state office and when asked his impressions he replied, "It is a lot of hard work but enjoyable."

Tucker is the Prosecuting Attorney for the Sixth Judicial District (Pulaski and Perry Counties) of Little Rock, which is the largest district in the state. He brings to this office three years experience in private law practice.

While discussing his campaign and future plans Tucker cited problems within the criminal justice system. As an example he told of a backlog of some 1,200 felony cases in his district. Between 70 and 80 per cent of these crimes are committed by persons between the ages of 15 and 25 years.

Mr. Tucker said he found this a "disturbing aspect" and felt that the public has an obligation to the young people to give them an opportunity to gain more knowledge of the laws of our state.

In further explanation of what he plans to do when elected Tucker said he planned to work with the State Department of Education to design a basic course in law enforcement at the junior-senior high school level so that the young people might have a better understanding of their legal obligations and how society works. In discussing ways to strengthen state law enforcement he proposed better pay and better training programs as a beginning.

In his many proposals for the office of Attorney General, Tucker said he would be a full time Attorney General. "The Attorney General should be the chief counsel for the public interest. When state agencies act on regulations which affect the people of Arkansas, the public should have a spokesman present to represent its interest."

Rain Moves Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A lingering stationary front finally got a boost from dry and cooler air and moved out of the state Tuesday night taking with it the cloudy skies and rain that had dominated Arkansas' weather this week.

The front was pushed eastward by cooler, drier air associated with a large high centered over Canada and extending southward into Texas.

The National Weather Service said a second high pressure system was expected to form today and be centered tonight over Arkansas. The high was expected to keep skies fair and temperatures mild through Thursday.

The Weather Service said, however, that a new frontal development would make conditions favorable for shower activity Saturday and Sunday.

Temperatures Tuesday ranged in the 70s in all sections of the state.

All Around Town

The Hope Round-Up Club will have a very important meeting Thursday, May 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the Third District Coliseum. Every member is urged to be present.

Apparently Hope will definitely get a new Arkansas State Police headquarters as well as a new District 3 Highway Dept. headquarters. Bids will be taken on the Highway Department headquarters May 24. There was no estimate as to the cost. The new headquarters will be on Highway 29, just off I-30 on the Herbert Arnold place.

A 1971 senior class ring with the initials RRA was mailed to Supt. James H. Jones from Brinkley, Ark. Someone found the ring in a rest room. Mr. Jones thinks it belongs to Randy Arnold but hasn't been able to locate him. The ring is available to the owner at the Administration Building.

The regular monthly Farm Bureau meeting will be Thursday night, 7:30 p.m. May 4, 1972, at the Farm Bureau Conference Room. All members are invited.

Arkansas Bankers Convention expects 1,200 persons May 7-9 at Hot Springs. Scheduled to speak at a morning session is Charles E. Sharpe Jr. who will report on the 800 member Junior Banker Section of the Association. He is president of the Section and is assistant vice president of First National Bank, Hope.

Hope Golf Association will meet Thursday, May 4, for a Scramble Tournament starting at 5 p.m. a meal and entertainment will follow.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will make its final visit of the fiscal year to Hope May 8-9. It will be at Red River Vocational Technical School from 12 noon to 6 p.m. both days. Hempstead needs 220 pints the two days to meet its quota and avoid a deficit. Those giving assure blood for their spouse, children under 18 and parents for up to one year. Do your part and protect your family by giving blood during the visit.

Astronauts to Tell of Voyage

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 16 astronauts tell about their voyage to the moon today in their first news conference since the end of their 11-day space adventure.

John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II will show films they took on and about the moon and answer questions for an hour at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

The astronauts ended their lunar flight last Thursday, splashing down in the Pacific Ocean after a trip of 1.2 million miles.

Young and Duke spent 71 hours on the moon. They were outside their landing craft for 20 hours, driving their moon buggy to various geological sites to collect a record 213 pounds of rocks and soil samples.

Since their return here Saturday, the spacemen have spent long hours debriefing on their mission and will continue to do so for another two weeks.

Scientists in the Lunar Receiving Laboratory have unpacked a few moon rocks the astronauts brought back and have found some puzzling things.

The general scientific feeling before the mission was that the Descartes Mountain landing site would produce the first definite evidence that volcanoes once erupted on the moon and played a role in its formation.

Most of the rocks examined so far are breccias, or composites of different materials.

Whether they were formed by volcanoes will have to be determined by microscopic examination of thin sections of the rocks, explained Dr. Paul Gast, a space agency specialist.

"Everybody is sitting on a fence," Gast said Tuesday. "The answer may not be available for some time."

Membership Drive

The Hempstead County Rescue Unit will hold its regular meeting on a new night Thursday, May 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the W.O.W. Hall.

The unit is having a member drive to recruit new members as well as getting all old members back, and is proposing to have more training programs in various fields of rescue of all types.

Plans for reorganization and the purchase of specialized rescue equipment are being discussed.

Three members from the Rescue Unit and four members of the Hempstead County Ambulance Service are now enrolled in Emergency Medical Technician school and will be qualified to instruct some of these courses. There will also be films pertaining to various types of training.

Some statistics for reasons why we need a good active rescue unit are: (1) an excess of one million people per year die of heart attack in the U.S.A. (2) accidents are the fourth major cause of death in the U.S.A. (3) motor vehicle accidents are the largest single cause of accidental death.

Bus Service on Trial Basis

BLYTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Bus service between Blytheville and Jonesboro will be inaugurated Monday on a 90-day trial basis, according to Paul Robbins, president of the Manila Chamber of Commerce.

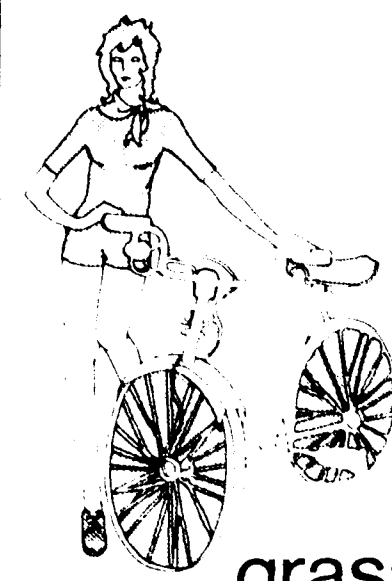

Robbins said Tuesday that cost of the service would be underwritten by Jonesboro, Manila, Leachville, Blytheville, Dell, Monette and other towns on the route.

Robbins said there would be two roundtrips a day, six days a week and that they would originate in the Jonesboro terminal of Great Southern Coaches.

He said the service would provide passenger and freight service to such areas as Black Oak, Lake City, Roseland and Big Lake. Officials have been trying for several years to obtain bus service for the area.

CURT JOHNSTON

Curt Johnston, Science Demonstrator in Arkansas for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, was the guest speaker at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting. Kiwanian Clyde Davis arranged the program and introduced the speaker whose topic was "From Test Tube to Trimline—The Chemistry of Communication".

In thinking of communications one's mind immediately pictures wires, transistors, diagrams, connectors, conductors, and the seemingly less sophisticated telephone, teletype, radio and television. As unlikely as it may seem Chemistry plays a vital and direct role in the communication field.

There are 104 known chemical elements today, 97 of which are used in the telephone or in the manufacturing processes used in the making of 485 individual parts of the modern telephone.

Time was when wire insulating materials were comparatively short lived. Today plastics—chemicals, if you please—are used to produce insulating materials for wires and cables that are designed to last for fifty years or longer.

Mr. Johnston gave visual demonstrations with his talk that were somewhat dramatic. For example the use of light, a laser beam, to conduct energy. This opens up a new field of "fiber optics". Bell scientist see a strong possibility of using light for the transmission of sound waves in general use. Mr. Johnston demonstrated that things aren't always what they seem. He has appeared before the Kiwanis Club and other clubs from time to time in the past. This program is always one of the outstanding programs, bringing new approaches to the communications field.

Guests at Tuesday's meeting were Mrs. Kenneth Hamilton, Mrs. F.R. Moses, Larry Thrash, Judge Finis Odom, and Gaylon Mark Decious, son of Kiwanian Gaylon Decious.

Mays Speaks in Camden

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Richard Mays of El Dorado said Tuesday that many people believe the tax structure and welfare system were changing the form of government in America from a democracy to a socialistic welfare state.

Mays, a Democratic candidate for Congress in the 4th District, told a Rotary Club here that he believed the time had come when we "must re-examine the basic concepts of our tax system because the system had developed to the point where it was eliminating any incentive of the worker to work harder to earn more money because a large portion of any increased earnings would be taken away in taxation."

Mays said that while welfare for the aged, the infirmed, and the young had its place, welfare programs for able-bodied persons capable of holding gainful employment were "involving the wrath of the working man."

Senate Makes Resolution

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has joined the Senate in endorsing family vegetable gardens.

It sent to President Nixon without a dissenting vote Monday a Senate resolution urging that each American family, where practicable, plant a vegetable garden to fight inflation, save money, get exercise and have "the fun and pleasure of family vegetable growing."

Two Killed in Head-on Crash

BLYTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — State Police said that two men were killed Tuesday in the head-on crash of their cars on U. S. 61 about eight miles south of here.

The victims were identified as Louis Johnson, 69, of Osceola and Jerry D. Lloyd, 31, of Leachville.

Time for Candidates

KXAR will offer candidates for county office an opportunity to have an hour of air time as a service to the voters of the county. Starting May 8th and going through the 18th the hour from 6 to 7:00 p.m. has been offered to the candidates with the only provision being that they answer questions put to them by listeners over the phone.

The program time is being provided free to the candidates. The schedule is as follows:

May 8, Lile Easterling; May 9, Jerry Garrett; May 10, Par House; May 11, Dee Mc Murrough; May 12, Perry Henley; May 13, Finis Odom; May 16, Carter Sutton; May 17, Larry Patterson; May 18, Jerri Pruden.

General Manager Haskell Jones says he hopes all candidates will avail themselves of this opportunity to make their views known by taking part in this voter information series.

At Capitol

Hoover's Body Lies in State

By THE SEPPY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The body of J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI for nearly 48 years, goes on public view today in the Capitol Rotunda amid expectations that the passing of the man will mean the passing of an era.

There seems little doubt that no matter whom President Nixon names to replace the 77-year-old bachelor, found dead in his home early Tuesday, there will be changes in the nation's top investigative body which Hoover ruled with an iron hand and molded in his own image.

A memorial service was scheduled at the Rotunda at 11 a.m. today, with a eulogy by Chief Justice Warren Burger. The body will lie in state until 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

President Nixon will deliver the eulogy at the funeral service at the National Presbyterian Church, the one Hoover attended, at 11 a.m. Thursday. Burial will be in Congressional Cemetery in the nation's capital, Hoover's lifelong home. His only survivors are nieces and nephews.

Hoover, whose body was found beside his bed, died of natural causes. His death was attributed to "hypertensive cardiovascular disease"—an ailment linked to high blood pressure—although the immediate cause might have been a heart attack.

Clyde A. Tolson, 72, Hoover's longtime friend and No. 2 man in the bureau, was named immediately to take charge. Nixon was to name an acting director today, most likely a Justice Department attorney but not Hoover's permanent successor.

Nixon, speaking at the White

House Tuesday, said every American owes Hoover "a great debt for building the FBI into the finest law-enforcement organization in the entire world."

The President ordered flags at all public buildings and installations lowered to half-staff. Tribute to Hoover, who served eight presidents and 16 attorneys general, poured in from friend and foe after his death. Most praised him as a man of honor, courage, integrity and love of country.

"No individual in the history of this nation contributed more to the great causes of liberty under law and Americanism," said Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said bootleggers, bank robbers, saboteurs and draft-card burners disliked Hoover "for the qualities that endeared him to all other Americans, his total dedication to principle and his complete incorruptibility."

Grant Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $207,000 grant to Crossett for a city park has been approved by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, the office of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced Tuesday.

The money is to be used to acquire a 19-acre tract of land and a 51-acre lake adjoining an existing 30-acre city park. Improvements planned are picnic grounds, playing fields, boat launch and ramp facilities.

Scouts Win Blue Ribbon

Boy Scout Troop No. 92, sponsored by the Presbyterian Church, brought home first place ribbons for the third consecutive year in contests held in Texarkana recently. The theme for the event was "Pioneering", with one or more boys working on separate projects with assistance from Explorer Post No. 92. An addition exhibit, "Rocketering", was presented. Scoutmaster Harold Sisson expresses his thanks for the special help of Assistant Scoutmasters Lawrence Adkison, Bill Morgan, Albert Patton, and Bobby Brown.

Lilith Tells View of Females

By MARK L. KAUTZ

Associated Press Writer
FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — A group of college women who believe men unfairly dominate the country's periodical press, has begun publishing a literary magazine offering "a feminine point of view" exclusively.

"Lilith," first published on the Fresno State College campus where most of its staff members attend post graduate classes, is restricted to "work created and edited by women." Its nine editors say it is not associated with the women's liberation movement, however.

"Far too often the only avenues by which a woman can express herself are through publications controlled by men," said Becky Backus one of the editors in an interview. "Consequently, much of what women have had to offer has been labeled trivial or ignored as typically feminine, a term that carries all those delightful connotations of sugary, flowery, naive or simply poorly written."

The editors hope women, who might otherwise be too timid to publish, will submit poetry, essays, art or fiction.

The first issue, its 35 pages bound in blue construction paper, contained several essays by the editors ranging over topics from Shakespeare's "Troilus and Cressida" and how women are portrayed in dirty jokes to a favorable book review of Germaine Greer's "The Female Eunuch."

The first printing of the magazine was of 900 copies, selling for 50 cents. Six hundred copies were mailed to colleges and universities around the country which have women's studies courses. The editors hope students at these colleges will subscribe or submit material for publications.

A Christian-Judaic myth provided the name source for Lilith, a woman who is created equal with Adam from a single piece of clay.

The upcoming second issue will feature contributions from the local community, including poetry by a junior high school girl and short stories written by a housewife.

"We're also considering a study of male anatomy," one editor said, "but we can't decide whether it should go in the art, poetry or fiction sections."

Game Night at Country Club
Pink roses in silver were at the Hope Country Club on Saturday, April 29 for Game Night preceded by a buffet supper featuring beef birds, which was served to 60.

Games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Albert Bray, Earl Lockett, Jim Watson, Mrs. Jim Pruden, Mrs. Art Trout, Wayne Bailey, Mrs. Robert LaGrone, Wayne Russell and Mrs. Larry Redlich.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Harry Wafer, III, Jacksonville Beach, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Smith, El Dorado; Mrs. Thelma Lindenstrueb and Mrs. Catherine Rowe, Aberdeen, Md.

Host couples were Mr. and Mrs. Brack Schenck, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Franks and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bray.

Coming, Going

The Ronnie Smiths of El Dorado spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith.

Mrs. Thelma Lindenstrueb and Mrs. Catherine Rowe have returned to their home in Aberdeen, Md., after visiting the Terry Becherer family.

Mrs. Harry Wafer, III, Jacksonville Beach, Fla., has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Brack Schenck while her husband is on a U.S. Navy cruise in the Caribbean.

Legislative Conference

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Sen. W. D. "Bill" Moore Jr. of El Dorado is one of 50 legislators from 25 states invited to a conference sponsored by the Eagleton Institute of Politics at Rutgers University.

The conference, to be held in Florida in July, is aimed at strengthening the legislative branch of state government by bringing legislators together to discuss problems, prospects and types of techniques and resources that can be used to achieve change.

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

Maybe He Should Be Liberated

DEAR HELEN:

I am the father of two children, 11 and 10, I have held a lot of different jobs since I've been married, but haven't worked for about two years.

My wife has a very good job and pays the bills. We've started buying a house recently. She can manage the payments.

So fine, you think—No! I'm irritated most of the time because she isn't training the kids to care for the house. It is never as neat as I would like it to be. She runs to cheap stores for our food and clothing. She considers herself a good cook but her meals give me heartburn.

Her appearance is not first-rate, and I find myself nagging her. She says I degrade her in front of company and this whining gets on my nerves.

To tell the truth, she bores me, but I have decided to stay with her for the sake of the children. It isn't easy. Is this a wise decision? —DISGUSTED HUSBAND

DEAR DIS:

For you: yes. It's free board, room and maid service. But why not put the decision to popular vote—just before your start packing...Or at least seriously looking for a job!—H.

P.S. In case you're funnin' with me, friend, my answer would be the same even if you'd signed the letter "Disgusted Wife"—about her hard-working husband.—M.

DEAR HELEN:
My daughter is 18 not married. She has had two babies which she's put up for adoption.

My husband (not her father) is a very straight-laced man. He's still making me pay for a small affair I had three years ago. He picks at me constantly.

When we have a fight, he gets to me by calling my daughter every bad name in the book, beginning with "prostitute," and getting worse. I tell him she's very sensitive and it isn't like she sleeps with every Tom, Dick and Harry, but he comes back with "No, only Tom and Dick!"

Just because he's supported her for 15 years, does he have a right to say these mean things? How can I protect her? I try so hard.—E.

DEAR E.:

Seems to me "protection" is several years late and not on target!

You and your husband should leave off fighting long enough to find help for your daughter. Granted, she doesn't deserve the names he calls her (prostitutes seldom get pregnant) but she DOES need a crash course in saying, "No!"—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Loved the item about the teenage girl who has been going to run away from home for years, but every time she gets to the front door, the phone rings.

We have teenaged boys, not girls, and sometimes I would leave home too, if it weren't for the fact that, each time I try, I collide with my husband in the front doorway...same idea on HIS mind!—NANCY

DEAR HELEN:

About checking the "No" box in sweepstakes prizes. My father checked "No" in the designated spot on the outside of the envelope. Inside, he put an order and a check. He never got the goods, and the check was never cashed. So we assumed the "No" envelopes were simply thrown away unopened, and his name was never entered in the sweepstakes.

When will Ralph Nadar check the "No" box on this type of contest?—N.O.

DEAR N.:

...When he gets enough evidence. Have you sent yours in to him?—H.

Arkansas' First Lady Enjoys Her Duties

By DALA MCKINSEY

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Slightly more than a year ago, Betty Bumpers, wife of Gov. Dale Bumpers, was apprehensive about how moving into the governor's mansion would affect her family.

She was also concerned that the duties of the governor's wife might interfere with her role as wife and mother.

Now she has plunged into life at the governor's mansion and talks enthusiastically about several projects she has undertaken.

"I have enjoyed it more than I thought I would," she said.

One of her projects is to find portraits or photographs of all the former first ladies of Arkansas and hang them in the winding stairway at the mansion.

Another project is to cover the formal dining room chairs with needlepoint covers depicting several periods of Arkansas history. Mrs. Bumpers has also ordered a 12-foot rug of the state seal for the entrance hall.

In addition, she has ordered a cabinet to house the state's silver—taken from the U.S.S. Arkansas.

Just about her favorite duty, is guiding children on tours through the mansion.

She delights in relating Ar-

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "The Dark Side," filling NBC's hour-long special program niche Tuesday night, was a pilot show for a series. It was aimed at the heights in quality but turned out seriously flawed.

Filmed on location in New York, the program was an actors' romp—they seemed to have been given their heads and performed with abandon all over the screen. It was also a photographer's field day. The problems were primarily in the script which painted the characters into a corner from which there was no escape unless a cliché windup were resorted to or a leading character threw himself out of a window.

Since the entire effort was on the arty side, the windup was by the window route.

One of television's demands is that the living room viewer have someone to like and root for in an action show. There was no one in "The Dark Side." David Wayne played a whisky-sodden bum with ornate and unlovable flourishes as he tried to pass himself off as the long-lost father of a new millionaire. Robert Webber was such a vicious bad guy as a scheming private eye one could only regret he escaped punishment. And Wendell Burton, as the teen-aged, mother-dominated heir, was so weak that it came only as a mild surprise that he was psychotic.

CBS worked fast Tuesday after the news broke about the death of J. Edgar Hoover. The network news department pulled out tapes of a five-part report broadcast more than two years ago in its morning news show, pasted them together and threw in some updating commentary.

The result, a rather chilly, hard-eyed evaluation of the FBI director's career, went on the air in the early evening, preempting a rerun of "The Glen Campbell Show."

The report was, in the words of narrator John Hart, "he was an extraordinary public servant." Admirers told of his administrative ability, heroic stature in the public eye and of his reorganization of the Federal Bureau of Investigation into a world-renowned investigative agency.

Critics, including two former FBI agents and former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, were not so flattering but limited their comments primarily to the operation of the agency.

Check Acceptable

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The police department decided the check might be flimsy but it was acceptable.

Officers said that to pay a $5 parking ticket, Judith V. Schneider wrote the check on the outside layer of a roll of bathroom tissue and stuffed the ticket inside the core.

kansas history. She said the children are wide-eyed and usually say they think her house is pretty.

"I tell them it is theirs too," she said.

When the children go through the house she takes them through the three rooms open to the public and then leads them to the breakfast room and the downstairs den so that they can see that the state's first family lives just like other people.

It's evident that children live in the mansion.

A blue bicycle belonging to Brooke, 9, was left near the guardhouse and her poodle sprawled on the breezeway nearby. In the downstairs den, a pair of boxing gloves rest on the mantle and there is a ping pong table.

One of Brooke's hamsters has escaped from its cage and lives behind a basement concrete wall, coming out for food only when no one is around.

Mrs. Bumpers said that Brent's dog Gypsy walks the rounds with the guards at night. Brent is a sophomore at Hendrix College.

When the Bumpers moved in, Mrs. Bumpers found herself short a bedroom suite and several other items. She brought several items out of storage and bought some new tables and lamps.

Former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller had brought in a great deal of his furniture to use at the mansion, and took most of it with him when he left.

Mrs. Bumpers would like to see the three public rooms done in period furniture, instead of the hodgepodge that is now in the rooms.

Life really has not changed much for the Bumpers children, Mrs. Bumpers said. They all have breakfast together and she tries to be home each afternoon when Bill, 13, and Brooke come home from school.

She said that both she and her husband try to be home at night. However, the governor will be away from the home at night while campaigning for reelection.

She said that Bumpers often works in the mansion and has meetings there. During the Marianna crisis, meetings were held into the night at the mansion, because she said the governor did not want to call attention to the meetings through the news media.

There has been somewhat of a loss of privacy for the Bumpers family.

She said that until she planted pine trees in the back yard, people would park at the end of a dead-end street, which stops at the backyard of the mansion to watch the Bumpers family.

Mrs. Bumpers was treated at the Fort Smith hospital recently for an attack of tachycardia—rapid heart beat. She said the hospital insisted on taking her to her car in a wheel chair.

Someone took her picture and the next day it was in the Fort Smith paper.

She laughed and said she did not even notice a photographer. Mrs. Bumpers feels her husband had been a good governor.

After Bumpers was elected there was speculation that he might seek higher office.

Mrs. Bumpers does not have any plans for moving to a larger political role.

"I take a day at a time," she said.

She said she felt it would be easier for her to return to life in a small town like Charleston than it would be for her husband, who is now accustomed to the fast pace of the governor's office.

But then, she said living in Charleston was one reason she could adapt to living in the governor's mansion.

"If you live in a small town, you owe it to have a part in the community," she said.

"You live the same kind of life—it doesn't mean what position you're in."

However one portion of Mrs. Bumpers life has changed. She now has a staff and does not have to cook.

"It's the greatest luxury," she said. Mrs. Bumpers says she is so unaccustomed to cooking, that when she does prepare a meal it is a "major production."

Giants Limited to 2 Hits

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"A two-hitter is great if you get a two-hit shutout," New York's Gary Gentry observed. "But two hits and two runs? I hate to think what would have happened if I gave up six hits."

Gentry, who has two one-hitters to his credit, now has one two-hitter to go with them. And if Bobby Bonds hadn't been in the San Francisco lineup Tuesday night, there's no telling what Gentry might have gotten.

Bonds got the only two hits off the Mets' hard-throwing right-hander, triples in the fourth and ninth innings that led to both of the Giants' runs.

But the rest of the San Francisco offense was nonexistent, enabling New York to come away with a 4-2 victory that shoved the Mets back atop the National League East.

In the rest of the National League action, Cincinnati overtook St. Louis 7-6, the Chicago Cubs bombed Atlanta 12-1, San Diego defeated Montreal 6-1 and Los Angeles squeezed by

Walk Proves Winning Run

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill Russell drew a bases-loaded walk with one out in the bottom of the ninth inning, forcing in the run that gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 7-6 victory over Philadelphia Tuesday night.

Frank Robinson opened the ninth with a double off Barry Lersch, 1-1, and Jim Lefebvre was walked intentionally. Pinch-hitter Maury Wills then loaded the bases with a bunt single.

Chris Short replaced Lersch for the Phils and struck out Duke Sims before walking Russell to give Jim Brewer 1-0, the victory.

Pinch-hitter Bill Grabarkewitz and Manny Mota hit sacrifice flies in the last of the eighth to tie the score after Tommy Hutton's two-run triple in the seventh and Roger Freed's home run in the eighth had given Philadelphia 6-4 lead.

Pro Cage Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heads of the nation's sports associations, who already have spoken out against the proposed merger of the two professional basketball leagues, were scheduled among the first to testify today on a bill to allow the leagues to merge.

The on-again, off-again Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee hearings are chaired by Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., also a foe of the merger.

Today's witnesses, some of whom may not be heard, include: Walt Byers of the National Collegiate Athletic Association; Clifford Fagen, National Federation of State High School Associations; George Killian, National Junior College Athletic Association; William Wall, National Association of Basketball Coaches of the United States; and William D. Murray, American Football Coaches Association.

Also scheduled to appear is the Very Rev. John P. Raynor, president of Marquette University.

Marquette's Warriors were staggered in mid-season when All-American center Jim Chones signed a professional contract. Then, the team was temporarily disqualified from the NCAA tournament when forward Bob Lackey refused to immediately sign a document testifying to his amateur standing.

Sooners Sweep Two Games

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma Sooners swept a college baseball doubleheader from the Arkansas Razorbacks here Tuesday by scores of 3-2 and 4-3.

Shortstop Chuck Redmon singled in Joe Simpson with none out in the seventh inning as OU won the nightcap.

The Sooners loaded the bases before freshman Redmon's timely hit. Oklahoma ace Jackson Todd came in to retire 11 straight and pick up his ninth win against one loss. The victory ties a school record for most victories in a season.

OU won the first game in the sixth inning after again loading the bases. Losing pitcher Gerald Hannah walked in the deciding run.

The victories gave Oklahoma 30-12 season record. Arkansas is now 16-18.

Lakers Want DeBusschere in Playoff Game and Healthy

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers insist they're playing no psychological games when they say they'd be more comfortable if Dave DeBusschere were in the New York Knicks' lineup—instead of out of it—in tonight's third game of the National Basketball Association championship series.

"I honestly wish DeBusschere was in there," said K.C. Jones, the right hand aide and temporarily the voice of Lakers coach Bill Sharman. "Coach Sharman feels the same as I do."

"If DeBusschere doesn't go or if he's ready only for limited service, our guys are apt to let down. They'll say, 'We got it made now' and relax. If he played, he'd be geared to go all out. And when we go all out, nobody can beat us."

While the Lakers were guarding against overconfidence, the Knicks were concerned over the aching side of their star 6-foot-6, 220-pound forward, injured late in the second quarter of the second game Sunday in Los Angeles.

With the best-of-seven series tied 1-1, DeBusschere definitely will not start tonight's game in Madison Square Garden, his place to be taken by the 6-8, 220-pound Phil Jackson. The game will be nationally televised by ABC-TV (8:30 p.m. EDT).

World Golf Hall of Fame

HOUSTON (AP) — A World Golf Hall of Fame will be constructed at the Pinehurst Country Club golf course in North Carolina, a resort developer said here Tuesday.

The National Golf Writers Association will serve as the selecting agency for the Hall of Fame and a board of directors composed of leaders in the business, sports and entertainment industry will induct nominees each year.

Rangers Think Perry Doctors the Baseball

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Does pitcher Gaylord Perry of the Cleveland Indians use his hair to put "stuff" on the ball? Only his manager know for sure.

"He's a cute pitcher, all right," says Texas Rangers Manager Ted Williams, who's pretty sure. "I think he doctors the ball up every now and then."

Whatever Perry was doing with the ball was way over the Rangers' heads Tuesday night. He allowed just four hits and had 12 strikeouts before leaving in the eighth inning as Cleveland took a 4-2 decision.

An exasperated Williams was still trying to wash that man right out of his hair after the game.

"It's the first time I've seen him," said Williams. "I kept hollering to the umpires about him going to his hair. I don't know what you have to do to get them to go out and look at it."

Perry, who's heard such distress signals from National League opponents before his off-season trade to the American this season, firmly insists that he never uses that greasy kid stuff.

"I heard Williams hollering at the umpire but it didn't bother me," said Perry.

In the other American League games, the Baltimore Orioles whipped the Chicago White Sox 3-0; the New York Yankees defeated the California Angels 5-0 and the Kansas City Royals downed the Detroit Tigers 6-3. Rain washed out Minnesota at Milwaukee and cold postponed Oakland at Boston.

Perry, the former San Francisco star who came to Cleveland during the winter for Sam McDowell, pitched a powerhouse game before weakening in the eighth with two outs. Relief pitcher Steve Mingori came in to put out the Ranger fire.

Perry was helped to his third American League victory by Ray Fosse, who capped a three-run Cleveland rally in the sixth inning with a two-run double.

Dave McNally pitched a four-

Pepitone Is Quitting Baseball

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Flamboyant Joe Pepitone, claiming "It's no longer fun playing baseball," quit the Chicago Cubs Tuesday, possibly ending his 10-year baseball career.

"I just lost interest in baseball," said the 31-year-old, wig-wearing first baseman who spent most of his career with the New York Yankees.

"It wasn't a question of whether I was on the bench or playing. It was no longer fun playing baseball, and it hasn't been. Actually, this has been on my mind for about six years," added Pepitone, who reportedly was being paid $60,000 a year.

Pepitone's announcement came as a complete surprise, although Joe had been making headlines in recent days. After being benched about 10 days ago, he began complaining of a stomach ailment and kept removing himself from the lineup.

Last Sunday, his name was penciled in the original lineup; but Pepitone failed to show up. He then was ordered by Manager Leo Durocher to take a test.

Dr. Jacob Suker announced Pepitone was suffering from gastritis. On Monday, Pepitone was scheduled for another examination, but he failed to appear.

When he arrived at the park Tuesday, he made his startling announcement.

"I hereby request to be placed on the voluntarily retired list as of this date, as I am no longer interested in playing professional baseball," said Pepitone's written statement, which was dispatched by the Cubs to the National League office.

"It came as a complete surprise to me," said Cubs Vice President John Holland. "I tried my best to talk him out of it, but he told me he had been thinking about it for a long time and made up his mind last night."

Blue Back in Uniform

BOSTON (AP) — Vida Blue is back in uniform, a borrowed one, with the Oakland A's, but American League rivals won't have to worry about him for awhile.

The 22-year-old southpaw ended his long holdout by signing a 1972 contract for $63,000 Tuesday, then worked out with the A's before a scheduled game with the Boston Red Sox was postponed by rain and severe cold.

Blue put his signature on the contract during a 15-minute meeting with A's owner Charlie Finley, Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and league president Joe Cronin.

He was nearly 1½ hours late for the meeting in the league office, but Kuhn, Cronin and Finley waited patiently. It seems that Blue just slept a little late, beyond the 11 a.m. meeting time.

"I'm signed, I'm happy, I'm ready to play," Blue said. "I think the team has a uniform for me, but I don't know."

"We have one," Finley assured him.

The A's had a uniform with them on the trip—one that belonged to pitcher Jim Roland, recently sent to New York Yankees.

Blue met with Oakland Manager Dick Williams and pitching coach Bill Posedel and later threw lightly in the bullpen. He said his conditioning has been limited to running during the holdout and it may be three to four weeks before he's ready to pitch.

The young left-hander compiled a 24-8 record while winning the league's most valuable player and Cy Young awards in his first full season in the majors.

Kuhn announced that Blue's contract provides $50,000 salary, a $5,000 bonus for 1971 and $8,000 "for any possible liability under a contingent four-year college scholarship" which was part of Blue's original bonus arrangement when he signed in 1967.

No Le Hace Beaten

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Key to the Mint returned to the races and took jockey Braulio Baeza straight to the winner's circle while Phil Rubbico got some extra and unwanted steps out of No Le Hace.

Key to the Mint charged to a 2½-length victory Tuesday in the $22,400 Derby Trial, the final prep for Saturday's Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

And behind him, swerving badly in the final sixteenth of a mile came Joseph R. Straus' No Le Hace, winner of five straight races including the Louisiana and Arkansas derbies.

Trainer Elliott Burch said a decision on whether to send Paul Mellon's Key to the Mint to the Derby would be reached Thursday and that Mellon's Head of the River, fifth in the Trial, probably would start in the Derby.

The race was Key to the Mint's first victory in only three starts as a 3-year-old and it was his first start since being injured March 15.

NHL Rangers Moaning

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins, led by old folks Eddie Johnston and Johnny Bucyk, owned a two-game lead while the New York Rangers moaned about lost seconds today in the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup championship showdown.

The Bruins made it two in a row in the best-of-seven series by edging the Rangers 2-1 Tuesday night on Johnston's brilliant goal-tending and goals by Bucyk and Ken Hodge.

Ranger Coach Emile Francis had plenty to say about the officiating and the work of the timekeeper before heading for New York and games No. 3 and 4 Thursday night and Sunday afternoon.

Hodge, who had three goals in Boston's 6-5 first game victory, broke a 1-1 tie while the Bruins enjoyed a two-man advantage at 11:53 of the third period. New York's Bruce MacGregor was in the penalty box for tripping John McKenzie along with teammate Walt Tkaczuk, who was sent off for tripping Phil Esposito.

"Tkaczuk didn't trip Esposito," Francis said. "Esposito was so tired that he just fell down. There were a few penalties that could have been called the other way. However, the officiating works both ways and you can't cry about it."

Francis was disturbed plenty about what he thought was a raw deal in the final minute of play. An offside was whistled, and Francis claimed the clock kept running.

"They stole four seconds from us," he said.

"When you're a goal down, every second is precious."

Boston Coach Tom Johnson said both the Bruins and the Rangers played "a real good, tight hockey game." He added that his charges have to play a good game to beat New York.

"This was a tough game," the 35-year-old Johnston said. "There's no breathing room when you're in a 1-1 game. I don't think the Rangers can be any tougher than they were tonight. Their goalie, Gilles Villeneuve, was super. I never saw him play better."

Johnston, who alternates in the Boston goal with Gerry Cheevers, had 27 saves, while Villeneuve was credited with 23.

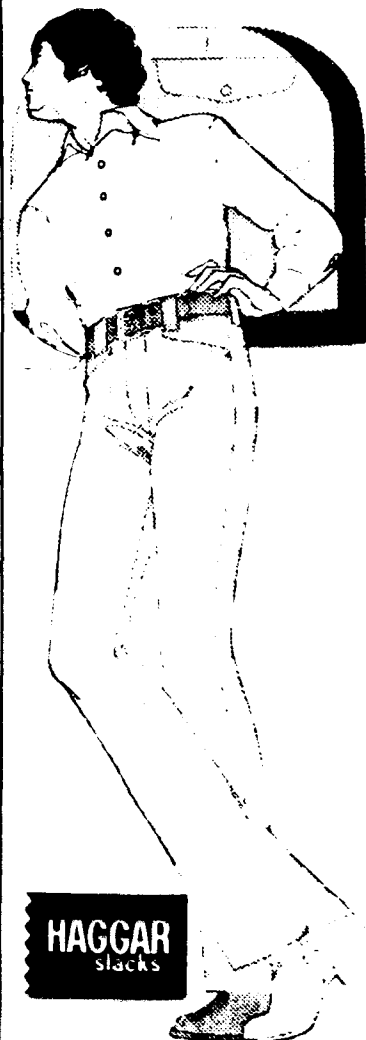

Rod Gilbert scored for the Rangers in the second period.

Bobby Orr's assist on Bucyk's goal enabled him to set an NHL playoff record of 18, one more than Montreal's Jean Beliveau totalled last year.

Phase II Controls on Profit Margins Surprises Wall Street

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Always looking ahead, because that's where the money is, Wall Street suddenly has been surprised from the rear by those Phase 2 controls on profit margins.

The mystery is why it should have been surprised, because the limitations were in effect ever since the end of the 90-day freeze last November. They weren't highly publicized, but they did exist.

The most significant of these regulations clearly limits the margin of profits on sales to the average of the best two of the past three years, and calls for price rollbacks, penalties and even rebates if the rate is exceeded.

Still when those scintillating income reports for the first quarter were released there were few analysts in Wall Street who bothered to ask if they were in violation of the guidelines.

A search through many of them revealed no mention at all. And the very few who showed concern ended by downplaying the impact of the guidelines. Nobody seemed worried.

As it now appears, a good many of the profits' statements are in violation. C. Jackson Grayson, Price Commission chairman, estimates that 10 per cent of early returns for the first quarter fall into that category.

In addition, it seems that a good many companies were as indifferent to the matter of guidelines as was Wall Street in ignoring the potential impact on prices. They filed late or failed to file completely.

What Grayson has reminded industry is that it can no longer take the easy but inflationary way to profits, that it cannot hope to make its income statement look good simply by raising prices.

Instead, it must earn those profits by increasing its sales. Any company able and willing to sell more can continue to show bigger profit figures. Selling, however, is hard work, much harder than changing price tags.

The realization stunned The Street—five months delayed.

What has become clear from this misunderstanding is that a brand new measure of corporate health must be used by stock analysts. The profit-sales ratio is now as important as price-earnings or any other measure.

To judge a company's profit outlook by the old measures alone can be terribly misleading. A new morality has been introduced and a yardstick for measuring it also has been supplied.

Candidate Cites Doctor Shortage

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Congressional hopeful Richard Arnold of Texarkana said at a rally Monday that 70 per cent of the state's doctors were in Fort Smith or Little Rock.

Arnold, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Fourth District Congressman, said that doctors in south Arkansas and other rural areas are "tragically overworked."

He said that federal programs should be devised to encourage doctors to locate in rural areas and small towns.

Arnold proposed a three-point program to correct the problem:

—Equalization of Medicare fee schedules. He said doctors outside large urban centers are being discriminated against because they receive smaller fees for the same service. He said standardization of fees should be the rule.

—Expansion of the national health service corps.

—Creation of a federal scholarship program for medical students.

"Scholarship obligation could be repaid by service for a fixed period of time in areas now lacking adequate health care," Arnold said.

After going to the office and writing my daily column, I reported to the company nurse and doctor who found my blood pressure was still in the gasket-blowing range—180 over 140. It should have been 130 or 140 over 80.

Three hours later, I was in a hospital next to the room in which a famous movie star several years before had been treated successfully for his occupational ailment—delirium tremens.

I spent the afternoon drawing up a new will and spent the evening—without the knowledge or consent of my doctor—drinking Irish whiskey with several grieving friends. They had gathered there largely, I believe, in the hope that they might hear an immortal death bed utterance. I made several, as a matter of fact, but nobody bothered to take notes.

I awoke with my first hangover of 1972, one I am beginning to suspect will be the last one of my life.

There followed 15 days of complete bed rest during which they tested everything except my I.Q.—an oversight—and took enough blood from me to give Dracula a bubble bath. Heart action okay. No diabetes. No gold stars for the liver, but blood pressure going steadily down, down, down.

Then, I had a few weeks of recuperation, which is a mediocre word for loafing. Last week I made a mistake.

I went to the boss and bragged that I was the only one on his staff at the moment with medical proof that he had a normal brain. This was because an encephalogram of my head taken the day before showed no rocks but only explainable routine waves.

"I didn't know we had a brain like that left in the organization," acknowledged the boss. "Do you think it would hurt if we put it back to work for a change?"

So, one stroke and a little more than six weeks later, here I am back at the typewriter.

A few words of counsel: For nearly 20 years I have had high blood pressure and carried up to 40 pounds too much weight, the equivalent of lugging around three bowling balls day and night. But I stupidly resisted the doctors' plea to do anything about either.

Now my blood pressure is normal and I have taken off 25 pounds with 15 yet to go.

"You have had your warning," my doctor said. "How long you live now depends pretty much on whether you learned your lesson."

The same is probably true of most of the 30 million Americans who are overweight and the 20 million who have high blood pressure, of whom 10 million are unaware they have.

Living on a sensible diet and taking two pills a day doesn't seem like too high a price to pay for doubling or tripling your chances for a longer life. An even more immediate reward: You feel better right away and have more energy with which to enjoy life.

Try it—you'll like it, or I'll give you your money back.

I would like to close by thanking many friends and readers across the country who sent me kind messages of encouragement during my illness. It is nice to return to a world in which you feel welcomed. I also am grateful to the writers who wrote substitute columns during my absence, but do wish they hadn't all been quite so clever.

Turkey Calls Too Realistic

LITTLE ORLEANS, Md. (AP) — A 19-year-old Frederick, Md., youth was wounded when his turkey calls were too realistic.

State police reported that Gary William Clark was sitting in a tree using a turkey call device to lure game Monday when he was shot accidentally by another hunter, Nelson R. Bussard, 33, of Hagerstown.

Clark was admitted to Cumberland Memorial Hospital in fair condition with 12-gauge shotgun pellet wounds of the head, neck and chest, police said.

Vetoes Course in Research

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Dr. William Shockley has been refused authority to teach a course at Stanford University on research methods involved in his theory that blacks are less intelligent than whites.

A special faculty committee had recommended 3 to 2 that Shockley be allowed to teach a graduate course in the subject for one quarter without credit.

Lincoln E. Moses, dean of graduate studies, said Monday he vetoed the course because of doubts about Shockley's objectivity and expertise in genetics. Shockley shared the 1956 Nobel Prize in physics as a coinventor of the transistor.

Requirements Lowered

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A person who has been a resident of Arkansas for 30 days and meets qualifications can hold a notary public license.

That opinion was rendered Monday by Deputy Atty. Gen. Rodney Parham to Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, whose offices issue the licenses.

Parham said the residency requirement to serve as notary public is the same as that for voting.

A U.S. District Court ruling last month struck down all Arkansas law on residency for voting except for a requirement that a person live 30 days in his precinct town or ward.

Censure Motions Approved

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — The Student Congress of Whitman College voted Monday to censure four student body officers who last week demanded that President Nixon return the football jersey presented to him by the school's football team last September.

The censure motion, which cited the officers for "gross misrepresentation of the student body in a knowing and secretive manner," was approved in a 16-5 vote.

The congress rejected a motion to censure the football team for giving the President its jersey No. 1 when he stopped in Walla Walla on route to a meeting with Japan's Emperor Hirohito in Alaska.

The student body officers said last week they wanted the jersey back to protest the President's "recent expansion of the war in Vietnam."

Hal Boyle Recovers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — At least one in every 100 living Americans has had a stroke and survived.

I joined this growing two million-plus group a little over six weeks ago.

The one question everyone asks a stroke victim is, "What did it feel like?" Well, in my case, it didn't feel like anything. Nothing.

I'm afraid it wasn't dramatic at all. There was no premonition or warning of any kind. I felt no lightning bolt of pain. Or even a twinge. No confusion. No fainting or falling down. No outcry. No paralysis or numbness.

But when the phone rang on my desk late in the afternoon of March 16, I noticed as I answered it that my voice suddenly was slurring. Having been a hypochondriac since shortly before birth, my mind instantly jumped to the right conclusion: I had had a slight stroke ... and might be in the grip of a continuing one.

"How many martinis did you have at lunch?" my friend remarked. "You sound like you had four."

"None," I told him truthfully. "You know I've been on a temperance binge since the first of the year."

After hanging up, I went out to the office washroom mirror and studied my face. I found I could wrinkle my brows and move both eyes freely. No pain. No feeling of weakness or numbness or lack of coordination in hands, legs or feet. There did seem to be a slight downward turn at the left corner of my mouth, but hardly enough to dent the winning charm of my manly dimple.

I went home and decided not to do anything until morning, which could have been a deadly decision but wasn't. When I awoke, the bathroom mirror confirmed the definite turn-down at the corner of my mouth, and a short rendition aloud of the Gettysburg Address sounded like Abraham Lincoln full of martinis. But it was no worse. The stroke was over.

After going to the office and writing my daily column, I reported to the company nurse and doctor who found my blood pressure was still in the gasket-blowing range—180 over 140. It should have been 130 or 140 over 80.

Bond Issue Approved

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — A $2 million Act 9 bond issue was approved by Conway voters Tuesday for expansion of the UMC Industries, Inc., plant here.

The vote was 550 for and 14 against.

The expansion will add about 90,000 square feet to the plant and will require about 150 new employees. The plant now employs 385 persons.

State Auto Inspections Are Termed Inadequate

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — State auto inspection programs have not been proven to substantially reduce accidents, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration says.

But, said NHTSA Administrator Douglas W. Toms, state programs are necessary and, if run right, can keep unsafe vehicles off the road.

"We feel that some kind of a vehicle inspection program, or some kind of a state-operated program to take the unsafe vehicles off the road is desirable—part of balanced system," Toms said in a statement March 14 to the House Appropriations subcommittee. It was released today.

"We have not pushed hard for a compulsory ... program," Toms said. "Rather, we have tried to let the states experiment to find ways that the obviously unsafe and polluting vehicles could be taken off the road without forcing everybody into an absolute periodic inspection."

"There are no data," he said, "showing the vehicle inspection programs in themselves have brought about any substantive reductions in accidents."

Deputy Administrator Charles H. Hartman said: "The real culprits are steering and suspension systems, brakes and tires rather than ... a lot of things that are being checked such as windshield wipers and horns and other things which are easy to check but may have little, if any relevance to the accident-producing situation."

Toms also said there is clear evidence that the number of auto fatalities increases as the nation's standard of living rises.

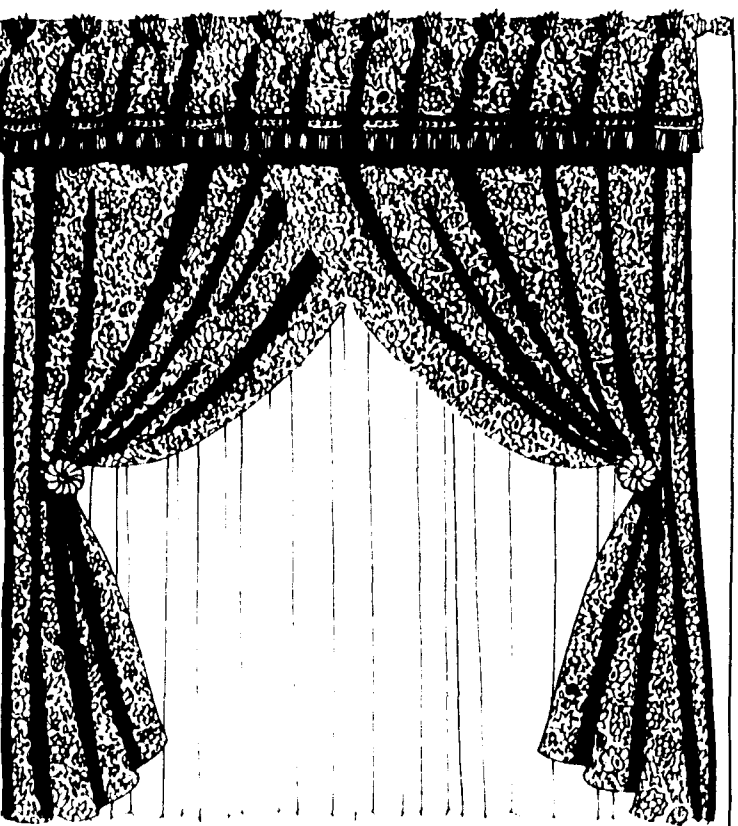

"There is no question but deaths are related to the economics of the country," he said. "One of the major reasons that we had a good decrease in 1970 is the fact that with the reduced economics and some reduction in travel, there was some reduction in drinking, and this in addition to the safety programs brought about a 1,100 decrease in highway fatalities."

Toms said he thinks the goal of cutting highway fatalities in half by 1989 from the approximate 55,000 in 1970 can be met, but, he added, "I think we are going to have to apply massive resources."

Toms said the effect of drug abuse on highway accidents, negligible a few years ago, is increasing. His agency requested extra funds for its Office of Alcohol Countermeasures to define and develop programs on drug problems related to highway safety.

INDEPENDENCE — Resurfacing of .248 miles and construction of one girder bridge on Broad Street in Batesville.

McClellan Discusses His Crime Fighting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Tuesday that because of his crime-fighting work he had "incurred the enmity" of criminals "who would like to see me defeated."

"And, if I weren't a United States senator, they might take other means," he said.

He said later that he was not implying that criminals were actively working toward his defeat.

McClellan is being opposed in his re-election bid in the May 30 Democratic primary by Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., Ted Boswell of Bryant and Foster Johnson of Little Rock.

McClellan said crime would not stop "as long as you have sin," but he said crime could be controlled so that persons could feel reasonably safe on the streets.

The senator, speaking to about 200 women who are working in his campaign for Democratic renomination for a sixth term, predicted that the Senate would pass pending legislation to compensate innocent victims of crimes.

He said he had not been too enthusiastic about the concept at first, but said the "law-abiding citizen has a right" to some compensation for injuries resulting from criminal acts by others.

He said he was encouraged that the rate by which crime had been increasing fell off last year, although he said he did not think the 1971 statistics were "conclusive that the trend is going to continue."

McClellan said those opposing his re-election were criticizing him for pursuing "the wrong priorities," for "a steel and concrete and brick and mortar concept of prosperity."

He said he held such a concept because "that's the only way to grow — you stop building, you stop growing."

He said one of his opponents, Pryor, had voted for more than $8 billion in foreign aid.

"I'd rather bring it home," McClellan said, noting that the Arkansas River navigation project of which he was a chief sponsor "cost only one-seventh" of the amount of foreign aid Pryor had supported.

Climax Seen at Hue

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam's drive below the demilitarized zone is expected to climax at Hue in the next week or 10 days and the South Vietnamese will be hard put to hold the ancient city, according to U.S. officials.

Small groups of North Vietnamese troops already are moving toward firebases Birmingham and King just outside Hue and other, larger elements are reported preparing for attack, the sources said.

One military expert said elements of Hanoi's 304th Division are moving south to join other units along a very good road but it will probably be up to 10 days before they are ready to drive on Hue.

The officials said a "plus for the enemy is that there is no defensible area between Quang Tri and Hue." The Perfume River, which he said would make a good defensive line, is south of the city.

"There is a real danger Hue could fall," one source said.

On the other hand, the officials said, the North Vietnamese have taken a pounding from U.S. air raids. "They've obviously been hurt," one source said, adding that thousands of wounded enemy troops have been seen being evacuated north.

There has been maximum use of American air power, a military source said, "and the strikes have been effective." He added that the weather is expected to be good for the future, which is a plus for the Southern forces.

In discussing Monday's loss of Quang Tri city, the first provincial capital to fall to Hanoi's troops, officials said there have been conflicting intelligence reports.

First, it was said South Vietnamese forces surrendered in large numbers and left behind 30 pieces of artillery and 17 tanks that had to be destroyed by tactical air strikes.

Another report, however, ascribed the disintegration of troop units to commanders ordering their forces to break up and attempt to infiltrate enemy lines.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Water Bill Astounding

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Mayor Roy Webber expected higher rates to finance the city's multimillion-dollar sewerage treatment plant improvements, was still astounded by the first water bill he received after the work.

"My secretary said she didn't know we had to pay for the plant by ourselves," the mayor said of the $4,600 bill he received for his flower shop and home.

The problem was traced to a billing error by the city's computer.

Wallace Pleased at Showing

By JIM BARLOW
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Gov. George Wallace, looking at his strong showing in the Indiana presidential primary, told reporters Tuesday night, "Yes sir, I'm satisfied. I won 27 votes in Indiana."

"Of all states, Indiana, George Wallace at the convention—they got to rise and say, 'Indiana casts 27 delegates for the governor of Alabama.'"

"You never thought you'd live to see the day...that an Indiana chairman would arise and say, 'Mr. Chairman, Mr. Chairman...Indiana casts 27 votes for George Wallace!'"

Wallace took 42 per cent of the popular vote while Hubert Humphrey had 46 and Edmund Muskie 12 per cent in the Indiana primary.

In Alabama, where Wallace backers had won two delegate votes and were leading for 20 of the 27 late Tuesday night, Wallace said he was happy with his showing.

Wallace said he was not unhappy that some of the delegates might not be committed to him. The Alabama Governor said he always had opposition in Alabama and added "But Sen. Hubert Humphrey didn't get all of the delegates in his state."

He added, "I noticed the press and news media talking about Alabama...checking into Alabama. They didn't check on Minnesota... You find people the State of Minnesota against Humphrey. You find people in Alabama against me."

Wallace's swing through Texas was part of an effort to encourage participation by his followers in this state's Democratic primary Saturday and in the precinct conventions afterward where the first step toward picking delegates to the national party convention is taken.

Wallace spoke to an overflow crowd in Houston's 3,000-seat Music Hall and earlier to large groups at airports in Beaumont and Corpus Christi.

At all the stops, Wallace urged participation by his followers in the primary.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that the Housing Authority of the City of Hope, Arkansas, will conduct a public hearing for the purpose of discussing a proposed amendment to the Urban Renewal Plan for the Central Urban Renewal Project ARK R-100 proposed to be undertaken by the Housing Authority. The proposed amendment will change the location of a neighborhood park and increase the number of single family residential lots for sale in the vicinity of Sixth and Hazel Streets. The hearing will be conducted in the offices of the Housing Authority at 720 Texas Street at 2:30 p.m., on the 17th day of May, 1972.

THE CENTRAL URBAN RENEWAL PROJECT IS DESCRIBED AS FOLLOWS:

Beginning at a point of intersection between the centerline of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Right-of-way and the centerline of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Right-of-way:

Thence south approximately 1,685 feet along said St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Right-of-way line to a point of intersection with the north right-of-way line of an east-west alley between Fifth Street and Sixth Street;

Thence west along said alley line and said alley line extended a distance of 940 feet to a point; Thence south a distance of approximately 360 feet to a point of intersection with the north right-of-way line of an east-west alley between Sixth and Seventh

South's bid of four spades represented a slight stretch. His opening bid was just about minimum and North's jump to three spades had strongly invited a game bid but not forced South to make that call.

If you are going to overbid you need to know how to play tough hands and South certainly handled this one with real skill.

If West had opened a trump and East taken his ace and played a second trump

Thence north to a point of intersection with the centerline of the Missouri Pacific Railroad right-of-way;

Thence west along said right-of-way line to the point of beginning.

There is on file in the Housing Authority Office three copies of the proposed Urban Renewal Plan for examination by parties of interest. These documents will be open for discussion at the hearing, and any person or organization desiring to be heard on any other matter regarding the proposed Central Urban Renewal Project will be afforded an opportunity to be heard. May 3, 1972

South would have no way to collect 10 tricks, but West made the normal lead of the king of clubs.

South looked over the hand carefully and asked himself the important question from the code word ARCH. How can I make this contract?

The answer was that he needed six trump tricks plus the three side aces and king of hearts. This meant he had to work out a cross-ruff to collect a total of six trump tricks.

He would have liked to duck the first club in hopes that the suit would be continued but East's deuce meant that there was a good chance that West would shift to a trump so South took the first club.

Then he played ace of diamonds; ruffed a diamond; ace and king of hearts; ruffed a heart; ruffed another diamond; ruffed another heart; ruffed a third diamond and relaxed.

East could overruff and lead a second trump or discard. Either way South was now sure of his six trump tricks.

Crib Deaths Lead To Parental Guilt

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Three weeks ago I lost my first and only granddaughter. It was a dreadful experience. My daughter said she was fed and bathed at 11 a.m. and put back to bed. About 1:30 p.m. she went upstairs to wake her and found the baby was dead. We raced her to the hospital by ambulance, but it was too late. The doctor told us this was a crib death. Could you please write something. It has worried me ever since she died as to what could cause this. It is such a shock when a baby is fat and healthy and only two months old to die suddenly.

Dear Reader—Yes, it is always a terrible shock and disappointment. Fortunately, the condition is rare. Several different theories concerning this problem have been studied. Once it was attributed to an enlarged thymus gland, the gland lying over the heart which is exceptionally large in children and diminishes in size with age. The exact way it was felt to cause death was never completely explained. A current theory is that the airway becomes suddenly obstructed—perhaps by spontaneous closure in the larynx area. This has even occurred while a baby was nursing at the breast.

No doubt there are several causes for such tragic events. I can only tell you that these problems don't seem to be inherited and it doesn't mean that the problem will occur again. It certainly does deserve a lot more study.

I want to emphasize emphatically that such a death cannot be prevented by the

Urges Gov. to be Honest

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mack Harbour of Paragould, a Democratic gubernatorial candidate, has called on Gov. Dale Bumpers to be "strong and honest" with people regarding the $26 million in federal matching funds the "governor promised."

"The current administration called a special session of the legislature this year promising to bring into the state $26 million in federal matching funds," Harbour said in a statement that was to be televised tonight.

Has the governor explained that it will take $9 million in state, local and private funds this year to get $26 million? Harbour asked.

"Where is this $9 million going to come from?" he said. "Our research shows that out of this $26 million, Arkansans can expect to receive this year approximately $3 million in federal matching funds. I call upon the governor to be strong, to be honest with the people of Arkansas."

At DeWitt Tuesday, Harbour said the governmental reorganization plan implemented by the Bumpers administration was "borrowed from the Rockefeller administration because Bumpers was elected without a platform."

Harbour said the reorganization plan had been a failure and cost the state more than $500,000.

Asked about criticism of Bumpers for allowing a number of appointees of former Republican Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to remain in their positions, Harbour said he did not think employment with the state should be contingent on political affiliation.

However, he said there were many qualified Democrats in the state and he felt a Democratic governor should appoint as many Democrats as possible to state boards and commissions.

Campaign Gimmick

MIAMI, Okla. (AP) — As a gimmick in his campaign for the Democratic congressional nomination in the 2nd District, Robert S. Gee mailed out packets of his wife's favorite recipes.

But his latest campaign newsletter carries this message:

Flash: In the blueberry muffin recipe, add one cup of blueberries. Our faces are red.

Triplets Challenge Twins

CLASON, Ariz. (AP) — To students at Fickett Junior High School, it seems that they are the same faces over and over and over in campaigning for next week's student body elections.

Three-year-old triplets Jennifer, Jeanne and Jayne Reuter are running for three student body offices, and two of them are being challenged by identical twins Scott and Brian.

Scott and Scott are running for school vice president, while Brian and Brian are running for treasurer. Jeanne is running for secretary against a fourth triplet.

Hoover Lived Crime-fighting Legend Half a Century

WASHINGTON (AP) — From whiz-kid nemesis of John Dillinger to a near-recluse whose bulldog face was marked by age, John Edgar Hoover lived a crime-fighting legend that spanned almost half a century.

Even in his embattled final days, the 77-year-old FBI director's triumph of tenure stirred admiration and downright devotion among the vast majority of Americans.

He was, said President Nixon, a "truly remarkable man," who had served eight presidents and 16 attorneys general with "unparalleled devotion to duty and dedication."

Hoover died Monday night at his Georgian-style home on the edge of Washington's Rock Creek Park. Word of his passing triggered a vast collection of tributes from public figures around the nation, including many of his more vocal critics.

It was, in a way, a storybook ending for the man and his 48-year career as director, a man regarded by politicians—and the gangsters he pursued—as untouchable.

A onetime Presbyterian choir boy who always retained a deep religious streak, Hoover began his government career while still in high school as a $30-a-month messenger for the Library of Congress, five blocks from his childhood home. In those days he fancied himself a baseball player, but after one misjudged fly ball permanently flattened his nose he turned to debating and then to law school.

His first big job with the Justice Department was in World War I when he handled deportation proceedings against 250 "alien agitators."

He was named assistant director of the FBI in 1921, and acting director three years later. He was only 29 years old. In surprisingly short order, Hoover was credited with having molded the agency into a law-enforcement model. He began with fewer than 500 employees. Now the FBI has more than 19,000, including 8,600 agents. And Hoover added a massive crime lab, a training academy, and, among all manner of files, some 81 million sets of fingerprints.

In the early days, Hoover was the darling of newsreels and his pugnacious face graced the front page of untold tabloids—in sharp contrast to his more recent disdain for newsmen—as his men captured or killed one brazen "public enemy" after another.

In one of the few early instances where Hoover ran into congressional criticism, Sen. Kenneth D. McKellar called him an armchair detective who left it to his men to risk their lives and had never made an arrest himself. Shortly thereafter, Hoover flew to New Orleans and personally nabbed Alvin Karpis, a kidnaper who had written some needling letters to the director, and the issue never again surfaced.

An FBI highpoint during the war was the capture of several Nazi saboteurs landed on U.S. shores by submarine, many of whom were executed after Hoover, an attorney, personally assisted in their prosecution.

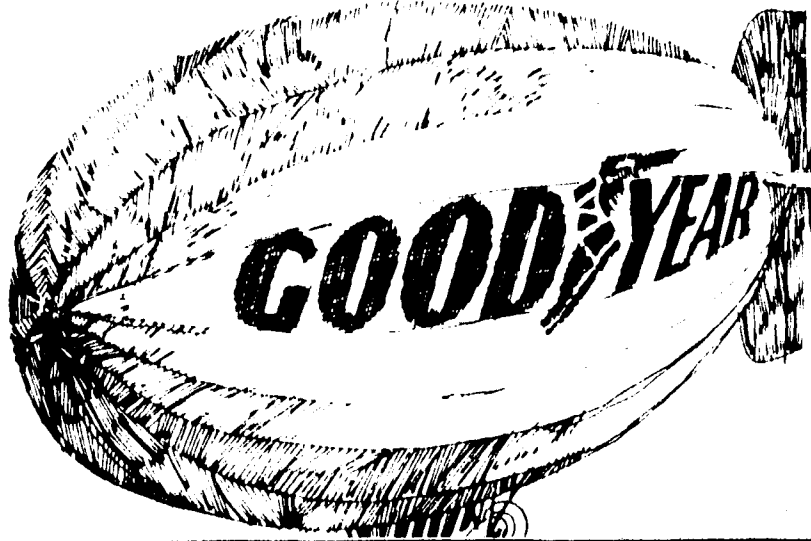

In the postwar era, Hoover triggered a relentless hunt for communists, convinced that communism "is not a political party" but an "evil and malignant way of life." And the FBI also began to use wiretaps in what the director called "internal security" cases.

Hoover's own life was cir-cumspect. A bachelor, he spent most evenings watching television or lavishing attention upon his two cairn terriers, one of them blind and deaf.

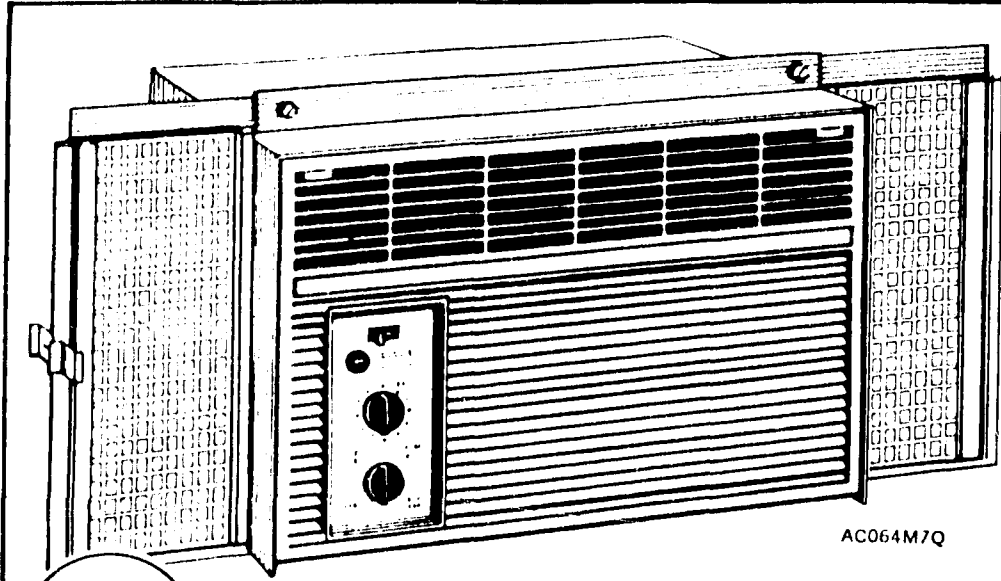

The director played tennis often, turning to gardening in his later years. He usually ate his lunch at the same downtown hotel, the Mayflower, and never deviated from the order of grapefruit, cottage cheese and black coffee. At times he would turn up at Maryland's race tracks, but never bet more than $2.

But if there was one area where Hoover relaxed his standard of moderation it was in public relations efforts to build the FBI's public standing.
